

Global Experience

March 2, 2015

Our consultants have worked for clients from all corners of the world. We maintain close international links with authorities, specialists, practitioners and offshore clients to maintain and expand our knowledge of international practices. We have found this invaluable in introducing new practices to companies where appropriate and protecting them from loss of their best human assets from international executive poachers, while allowing them to attract and retain the best international talent when required.