Use of Technology

March 2, 2015

We use effective technologies, particularly in the areas of data mining and research, to provide our clients an edge in both the integrity of research underlying decisions, and the speed with which we can examine complex issues and respond to client needs. This includes Guerdon's exclusive GuerdonData®. This is Australia's most comprehensive Internet based executive and director reward and performance database.